Well, the post-apocalyptic TT series is completed, and we have managed to run 8 successful events with minimal disruption. Much sadness and a subdued feel for the final events, without the big man Craig to entertain us. Number 10 will live long in our hearts though. It was a lovely evening for tonight's sprint, although the lightest easterly made it quite a slow night, even in the lovely sunshine. Marcus was fastest man tonight. Well done Marcus! Rory was 2nd and managed to redress the second that Richard took off him at last night's FCA sprint. First lady tonight was Miriam.

Many thanks to Mr Zarb (and Rory and Richard) for ensuring fair play at the start, and to Duncan for timekeeping today. Spotting provided by Jane once she got her breath back.

Thanks to everyone who has ridden and helped to run the series this year. You have all made it a success in difficult times. From an organisers point of view I have found the no frills approach to organising the events has been relatively low on hassle, and 8 events has not been too labour intensive.

See you next year

Jane
